Cheetah Rehabilitation in India

India will soon release cheetahs brought from South Africa and Namibia into the wild at Kuno Palpur in Sheopur district mark the beginning of inter-continental cheetahs. The last the country was year 1947 in the year 1952 it was the country. The India (WII) prepared a project a few years back.

of Madhya Pradesh. This will India's ambitious plan for resettlement of spotted cheetah of found dead in the Chhattisgarh and in declared extinct in Wildlife Institute of cheetah rehabilitation Cheetah: Cheetah is also the world's fastest, land mammal which is found in Africa and Asia. It is one of the oldest species, whose ancestors can be traced back to the Miocene epoch more than five million years ago. Their skin is slightly brown and golden, which is thicker than that of Asiatic cheetahs. They have a lot more spots and lines on their face than the Asian species.

Scientific name of African cheetah: Acinonyx jubatus.

- ◆ Asiatic Cheetah Scientific name: Acinonyx jubatus veneticus.
- ◆ Large body fur, short head and long neck, usually red eyes and often a cat-like appearance. It is smaller than the African cheetah. They are found only in Iran and there are less than 100 left in their numbers.

Protection:

- ◆ IUCN Red List: 'Critically Endangered'
- ◆ CITES: Appendix-I
- ◆ WPA: Schedule-2

Important Points

- ◆ Human-wildlife conflict, loss of habitat and non-availability of prey and illegal trafficking. Forest lands and cheetah habitats have decreased due to deforestation and agriculture. Climate change and increasing human population have further complicated these problems.
- ◆ Kuno National Park: Kuno National Park is a protected area in the state of Madhya Pradesh, India, which was given the status of a national park in 2018. It was established in 1981 as a wild sanctuary. or Sheopur and Morena districts of the state.
- ◆ Conservation Efforts by India: Seven years ago, the Wildlife Institute of India prepared a rehabilitation project for Cheetah conservation at a cost of Rs 260 crore. This could be the world's first inter-continental cheetah relocation project. The Environment Ministry had released the 'Action Plan for Cheetah Return to India' at the 19th meeting of the National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA). The National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) had decided to bring 50 African cheetahs from Namibia within the next 5 years.

India's largest floating solar project

The final 20 MW of commercial operation of 100 MW Ramagundam Floating Solar PV Project i.e. Floating Solar Power Project has been announced. Simultaneously, the 100 MW Ramagundam Floating Solar PV Project in Telangana has been declared operational with effect from July 1, 2022. This is the largest project of its kind in India. Floating Solar photovoltaic (PV) Projects : These are modules mounted on platforms and floating on reservoirs, lakes where conditions are ocean and ocean-like. These platforms are usually installed on calm bodies of water such as ponds, lakes or reservoirs. These solar panels are relatively quick to build and do not require leveling of land or removal of vegetation to install them.

Ramagundam Project: It is endowed with advanced technology and eco-friendly facilities. The project is spread over an area of 500 acres of reservoir which is divided into 40 blocks with a capacity of 2.5 MW each. Each block consists of a floating platform and an array of 11,200 solar modules. The project is spread over an area of 500 acres of reservoir which is divided into 40 blocks with a capacity of 2.5 MW each. The entire floating system is symmetrically installed in the reservoir by means of a special type of High Modules Polyethylene (HMPE) rope. The project is unique in that all electrical equipment including inverter, transformer, HT panels and Supervisory Control and Data Acquisition (SCADA) is available on a floating ferro cemented platform.

Environmental benefits of the project:

- ◆ The most obvious advantage from an environmental point of view is the minimum requirement of land which is mostly for the associated drainage system.
- ◆ Also with the presence of floating solar panels the evaporation rate from water bodies is reduced, thus helping in water conservation.
- ◆ About 32.5 lakh cubic meters of water can be saved annually by evaporation.
- ◆ The water body beneath the solar modules helps to maintain the temperature of their surroundings, which improves their efficiency and production. Similarly, coal consumption of 165,000 tonnes per annum can be avoided; Due to which the emission of 2,10,000 tonnes of CO₂ can be avoided annually.

Agneepath Scheme 2022

It will allow Indian youth who want to become a part of Indian armed forces to enter into the forces through this new entry and opportunity available. Be it Indian Army, Indian Navy, or Indian Air Force. Agneepath Army Bharti Scheme is a central government scheme for all Indian candidates. Through Agnipath, one can serve in the combat forces and approximately 45,000 and to 50,000 soldiers will be recruited every year for the service term of just four years.

Agneepath Scheme Details

- ◆ Those who will get selected for this recruitment process will be called as "Agniveers". As decided, 'Agniveers' will be provided by a good pay package and an exit retirement package after 4 years of service. It is to notice that, this opportunity is only for personnel below officer ranks that is for those who do not join the forces as commissioned officers. Lt Gen Anil Puri, Additional Secretary, Department of Military Affairs, has said, "Today average age is around 32 yrs, in time to come it'll further come down to 26 years. This will happen in 6-7 years. In order to transform armed forces into youthful, tech-savvy, modern, there's a need to harness the youth potential and make him a future-ready soldier?" He mentioned that after four years of service with the Army, resume and biodata of agniveers will be very unique and he will stand out in crowd with his attitude, skills and time.

Purpose of Agneepath Scheme 2022 :

- ◆ The main purpose of central government is to introduce the Indian Army Agneepath Entry Scheme with the aim of training the youth and to make a cut in retirement as well as in pensions. Indian government has come up with this scheme in order to strengthen our security forces. Selected candidates will be trained professionally and then they will be recruited within the areas like Jammu and Kashmir border.
- ◆ One of the most important thing to focus about this recruitment is that, there will be no entrance test for the youth. After getting selection, the candidates will go through training for six months and then will be inducted for three and a half years. in order to make them ready for joining armed forces as professionals.
- ◆ Defence minister, Rajnath Singh has said, "This will also lead to availability of a higher-skilled workforce to the economy which will be helpful in productivity gain and overall GDP growth,".

Odisha, 'Mo Bus' Service received the prestigious UN Public Service Award

Mo Bus, Odisha-based public transport service has been honored with a prestigious United Nations award, for their role and efforts in helping the world recover better from Covid19. The public transport service has been recognised for its role in "promoting gender-responsive public services to achieve the SDGs (Sustainable Development Goals)", the UN said. Among the other winners of this year's awards, announced by Liu

Zhenmin, United Nations Under Secretary -General for Economic and Social Affairs during a virtual event to commemorate the United Nations Public Service Day (celebrated on June 22), were public service initiatives from Thailand, Brazil, Canada, Ireland, Panama, the Philippines, Poland, Saudi Arabia, and Ukraine.

Recognition for Odisha:

- ◆ The UN recognition said the “problem” was that “bus services in the city of Bhubaneswar needed improvement”, as a result of which “the majority of people used private vehicles, two-wheelers and auto-rickshaw to commute instead of taking public transportation”.
- ◆ As the “solution”, the Odisha government in 2018 “reorganized the public transit services in the city to provide an integrated, reliable and inclusive public bus service system”. Mo Bus, the UN noted, has incorporated “real-time technologies like live tracking, travel planner and e-ticketing”, and an e-rickshaw system called ‘Mo E-Ride’ has been introduced as a last-mile feeder service.

Researchers discover a new enterprise-grade Android spyware called 'Hermit'

Lookout, a cloud-based security company, recently discovered a new spyware called "Hermit". Hermit spyware is capable of affecting Android and iOS devices. As TechCrunch reports, security researchers at Lookout have reported that national governments in Kazakhstan and Italy have used the Android version of Hermit spyware in "targeted attacks".

Hermit is a commercial spyware and has been used by governments in northern Syria, Kazakhstan and Italy. It was first detected in Kazakhstan in April 2022, when the government violently suppressed protests against its policies. It was also used for anti-corruption investigations in the north-eastern Kurdish region of Syria and by Italian authorities.

Hermit Android App is distributed via text message. The message seems to be coming from a legitimate source. Malware can impersonate telecommunications companies and other apps developed by manufacturers such as Oppo and Samsung.

The Hermit Android malware is modular because it allows spyware to download additional components that are required for the malware to run. Like other spyware, Hermit malware also uses various modules to record audio as well as collect call logs, messages, photos, emails.

It can redirect phone calls and reveal the exact location of the device.
